F4+ - F5+	3
F6a - F6c+	3
F7a etc

Other condition info: On Access land. High on a ridge up to Beamsley Beacon. It could be fairly exposed in windy weather. At sunset, you might experience the Led Zeppelin line, “There’s a feeling I get when I look to the West.”

Parking and approach info: Park as for Pike Stones, cross the A59 and commando down to the stream. Cross this and follow the wall steeply to a gate – the rocks are just beyond. The other approaches are possible from the top of Beamsley Beacon or from footpaths below Beamsley Crag.

Naze Nib

1/ DJ Chippy 6a+ *

Sit / hang start the mouth of the cave – avoid all lower rocks. Pull on and heel hook left. Tiny holds on the face lead to the top.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

2/ Good Stand 5+ *

A pointless sit start leads to majestic undercutting and a long reach to the top. No arête.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

3/ Naze Nib Arête 4 *

The arête from an easy sit start.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

4/ Left Arête 3

Sit start. The arête on the right. The base needs a bit of padding.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

5/ Hard Step 4+

The centre of the wall is hard for a move – jumping on is cheating.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

6/ Sitter Denied 2+

The right arête of the end wall.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

Brittle Flake Block

7/ Brittle Flake 4

The dirty flake from standing.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

Mantel Block

Mantel Mania Block

Best done in reverse order.

8/ Laughing Mostly 6a

Sit start. Grind over from the arête in the centre of the wall.

The bucket hold is out.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

9/ Bucket Step 5+

Sit start. Butch over using the bucket. Eliminate the arête.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

10/ Ergs 5

Sit start. Thug over using everything.

John Hunt 10/March/2015

Rough Block (no photo)

Up hill again; more to do here.

11/ Centre 3

Up the middle using everything.

The fun approach. The pancake boulder near the wall is only a few inches tall – the better stuff lies beyond.

Sunset.
